

Delivering dynamic courses

Course Options

We understand that the training requirements of two businesses are never quite the same. That's why we've created three distinct ways to work with you.

Off-the-shelf courses

You have a clear and distinct learning requirement.

Over the past five years we've made it our business to make sure we identify critical new training needs early on and create off-the-shelf course solutions to meet them. With dozens of courses covering everything from online security and compliance to health and safety, many of our clients find that our off-the-shelf course range meets their training needs without any further development.

To view a list of our off-the-shelf courses, just give us a call.

Course customisation

You can see most of what you want in our off-the-shelf offering, but there are areas where you need to have your own content. Perhaps you have your own case studies or examples. Maybe you have your own ideas about what should be tested.

No problem. We totally understand your need to customise our courses with your own content. We'll work with you to transform our courses into something more personal to your business.

Bespoke courses

If there's no existing course that fits your unique training requirements we can create a bespoke course.

Our team of dedicated consultants will work with you to create a course from scratch.

Refined and perfected over the past five years, our training consultancy delivers dynamic and interactive courses that improve retention and recall.

We can help you to convert simple, black and white training booklets into interactive, vibrant and engaging online material. We can show you how you could use online training to support your existing classroom sessions. We can help you to communicate to your staff through our unique system.

Get in touch

If you want to know more about our dynamic courses just give us a call on 0845 130 5140

absolutely. learning management system

Learn more about our Core Courses

Core Courses

Absolutely's portfolio of dynamic course content is extending every day to meet the evolving training needs of workforces across an increasingly wide spectrum of businesses. Here's an overview of some of the courses we offer to businesses today.

ACTS

When the government acts, you must follow. We offer courses that help businesses comply with changes driven by the Data Protection and Consumer Credit Acts. Working as introductory or refresher material, we ensure your compulsory compliance needs are met.

BANKING CODE

The Banking Code provides customers with better service and our courses help staff make it work. The Standard Banking Code solution is our bestseller, but our Banking Code for Building Societies and Business Banking Code deal with specific needs.

FINANCIAL CRIME

Businesses must employ robust processes to help staff identify and prevent financial crime. Our BBA supported Anti-Money Laundering courses help businesses in multiple sectors to deal with the threat. Businesses grappling with the growing problem of Fraud and ID Fraud will also find protection.

INSURANCE

The FSA's general insurance regulation has spread the regulatory net. Any business that sells insurance is now regulated. Our Insurance Conduct of Business courses offer basic, foundation and advanced support for all vendors. We back these up with our Insurance Product and Introduction to Insurance training programmes.

MORTGAGE

The mortgage industry, from lenders to Independent Financial Advisers, is under great regulatory scrutiny. Our Mortgage Conduct of Business courses, backed by the Council of Mortgage Lenders, help both lenders and intermediaries. In addition to this our CeMAP course, run in association with the ifs, helps maintain the competence of the 80 per cent of mortgage advisors who opt for CeMAP. We also offer Mortgage Product and Introduction to Mortgages training.

RISK

Modern businesses are obliged to ensure that they take reasonable steps to educate their employees about possible risk. In general, the types of risk faced by companies could be Strategic, Hazards, Financial and Operational. Our risk management course provides an overview of the key threats facing organisations and helps ensure that risk management and risk awareness are a key part of the organisations culture.

TREATING CUSTOMERS FAIRLY

Today's regulatory regimes don't just make laws; they want to inspire new thinking. Treating Customers Fairly is a key regulatory component open to interpretation. We provide a basic overview and a framework for helping build and develop internal best practice.

TRAINING FOR FSA COMPETENCY

The FSA wants professionals who represent the industry to be responsible. We provide training for Senior Management Arrangements, Systems and Controls (SYSC), the obligation for managers to take responsibility for decisions and systems. We also deliver T&C for Approved Persons, Complaints Handling and training on the Code of Market Conduct.

GET IN TOUCH

Give us a call on 0845 130 5140 to find out how our readily available courses can tackle your business problems.

 absolutely. train smarter, act faster